Mr. Abe Bosquit, of the Coralvo neighborhood, was arrested on last Saturday, at Beaver Dam, charged with aiding David Hill, who was under arrest for horse stealing, to escape from the guards. He was tried before his honor, Judge F. P. Morgan, on Monday last, and was acquitted. The proof was such as not to convict him, and we think the verdict of the Court was correct. Bosquit was under the influence of liquor, and did act imprudently; no doubt, but there was no circumstance or proof against him sufficient to warrant a court to hold him over. He was defended by Mr. E. C. Hubbard.

General Local News

"Back" Morton has been having a hot of fun—sleighing.

Dances are still in order. Boys stir around and let's have another.

Ice on Green river last week was reported to be six or eight inches thick.

The most popular amusement since the falling of the heavy snow has been sleigh-riding.

The young people of this city have enjoyed several days since the beginning of the holidays.

Last week was court of claims, and a good many people were brought to town in consequence thereof.

The most up-hill business with us just now is to substitute the 7 for the 6 in writing the year.

Business in the larger cities is not entirely at a standstill, judging from the drummers that visit us.

Boys, in writing to the fair sex and we know you do—be good and put it 77, else they may think you are not up with the times.

Though it be immediately after the holidays, our grocery men do not complain of dull times.

Now is the proper time for our patrons to renew their subscriptions, and we hope all will do so immediately.

When you have any local news that would be of interest to our readers, please come to the office and inform us of the fact.

When you visit Owensboro, if you need anything in the clothing line, go direct to E. Schuch & Bros. They keep a general assortment.

At the present time Hartford is without a tobacco buyer, but it is rumored that Z. Wayne Griffin and W. H. Williams will begin purchasing the weed when we have a season.

The night was very cold, and that may be an excuse for their walking so closely, but we don't know what to think of that peculiar sound which we heard—sounded like kissing, but we reckon it wasn't.

It is our desire to collect for the Herald all the local news of the county, and our friends in the country will confer a favor upon us, by sending us any items of interest that may occur in their neighborhood.

The Western Citizen, published at Paris, Ky., by Messrs. McChesney & Johnson, is, perhaps, the oldest periodical now being published in the State. With this week's issue, they launch upon the sixty-ninth volume. Continued success to your gen'lemen.

Quite a number of the Good Templars of this place met at Mrs. Lott Collins' last Friday night to cast characters and select suitable plays for their order. The ball was put moving, and now our citizens may hold themselves in readiness for something good when the plays are presented. The time for playing them has not yet been set, but then rest easy, we'll let you know.

The South Carrollton Student is the last new exchange to find its way to this office. It is a beautiful little sheet, gotten up by the pupils of the South Carrollton Male and Female Institute. Prof. Alexander is the main man on the staff, but a goodly portion of the paper is occupied by productions from the pupils. It is quite an able little institution, and one which the citizens of Carrollton should liberally patronize and sustain. The Student is published in the Owensboro Examiner office, by Mr. L. Lumpkin.

Attention Subscribers.

A good many of our subscribers began late in the year of 1876 and several of them subscribed for three months and some only until 1st of January, 1877. To all such, we say, if you will now pay us a sum sufficient when added to your other subscription to make $1.50, we will send you the paper one year from the time you began taking it.

Home Again.

After an absence of nearly a year from Hartford, being journalistically engaged elsewhere, we have again returned to our old home, and will hereafter be associated with the Herald. We are going to try and make a paper that the county and ourselves can be proud of, and if the citizens of the county will give us their patronage we will give them just such a paper. We mean business, now, and intend to do all in our power to make the Herald equal to any paper published in the Green river section, but we don't propose in let it stop even at this, but are going to keep pushing things along until it attains the reputation that our namesake's(?) paper—the New York Ledger—enjoys. Please remember we are here to stay, and don't hold off your advertising and subscriptions. Respectfully,

W. R. BONNER.

Subscribers for 1877.

We will give to every subscriber of the Hartford Herald for the year 1877, so soon as the subscription price is received, a copy of a neat little pamphlet of 52 pages, the title of which is "An Essay on Happiness," by Elder T. E. Rokey. We will also give to each subscriber a sheet of nice music, choice of any we have, and we have a large lot of it. Those that subscribe first will have first choice of music. This offer will stand good until further notice.

To Delinquents.

There are a great many names on our books who are owing us for subscriptions, job work and advertising, and as the year is now closed and a new year upon us, and we, like every body else, are in need of money, we must earnestly desire all delinquents to come forward and settle, or we will, under the painful necessity of doing you, which will wound your feelings very much, as it is considered by most "good" men, a gross insult to ask them to pay a very small sum they owe to a paper, and never intend to pay so long as they can keep from it.

A Good Work.

Rev. G. J. Bean, a local preacher of the M. E. Church South, now a resident of our town, has long been noted for his many good deeds, and he is undoubtedly one of our best citizens. On last Sunday he began a series of Sunday evening meetings at the jail. He sang and prayed with the prisoners, and exhorted them to lead such lives in the future that would not necessitate their incarceration in such places. There are seven inmates now in jail.

Tremendous Bargains.

We will furnish the Hartford Herald and the Lincoln (Ill) Times, at the same price, for one year, at the very low sum of $2.00 cash. The Times is a 48 column paper, and is published by two young men that were partly reared in our midst, viz: Wallace Hall & Bro. It is one of the latest, newest papers, published in the North West. Subscribe quick before we get out of the notion.

THE GREAT HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

Even when a physician is depended on in a case of sickness, it is always well to have at hand a simple and effective remedy adapted to the widest range of diseases. Especially is this true of pain killers and sudden attacks of acute disease. For these and for a surprising number of malignant and fatal complaints Dr. RANCLIFF'S SEVEN SEALS OR GOLDEN WOMEN never fails when used in time. With this great household remedy you may in fact dispense with the ordinary visits of your physician reserving his attendance for cases of emergency only. The proprietor of this medicine has thousands of certificates attesting its efficacy in diseases of almost every description, acute and chronic.

The Owensboro Monitor and Examiner pay us the following complimentary notices on our departure from that city. Gentlemen, we are under many obligations for the "send off," and we hope, when you die, you may go to that good place where few newspaper men go.

Mr. Will Bonner, for long a manipulator of the portable alphabet of this office, takes leave of us this morning, and returns to Hartford, his old home, where he will again be engaged as one of the editorial corps of the Herald. While we are loth to give him up, we cannot but wish him every success in his new undertaking. (Under Will's management the Herald is sure to thrive. We are not alone in the regret of a separation, for Mr. Bonner has won for himself a score of friends outside of the office; indeed, it has been noted that he is the hero of a hundred maiden hearts, all of whom live hereabouts, and will cry at his going. Monitor.)

Mr. Will Bonner, for sometime a contributor to the Monitor office, has gone to Hartford to take position on the Herald. Mr. Bonner, by his gentlemanly deportment while here, won the esteem of all with whom he came in contact. Examiner.

OLD YEAR'S FAREWELL.

BY HORATIO.

Old Time, a Monster none can stay,
With ruthless hand hath swept away,
The Old Year with its joys and woes,
Into the past, where all must go.
How many hearts one year ago
A sigh or pain they did not know
Have wept and bled with direst pain
Are doomed ere long to weep again?

The Old Year's gone, and full of gloom
With snail-like pace on many a tomb,
And cold the Old Year carry by
The grief, the sorrow, and the sigh
That we must know in future years,
We'll say "farewell" with but few tears,
And let the grief we all now know
From every one forever go.

The past has gone from us forever,
Time alone the ties can sever.
That bind us to the ones we love—
We hope to meet in realms above.

Another year to us is given,
The end of which is known to Heaven,
Farwell Old Year, may'st "good bye,"
With many a smile and many a sigh,
And into Future's unknown sphere
We soon shall smile or shed a tear.

G. W. Phillips having given the bonds required by law, was duly qualified as Sheriff, on New Year's day. He selected the following gentlemen as his deputies, E. H. Cooper, Fordville; G. W. Bunker, Hartford; S. L. Finkelson, Hogg's Falls. He has selected competent and honorable men to aid him and no doubt the business will be transacted properly. Mr. Phillips will move here soon.

At an annual meeting of Hartford Lodge, No. 156, A. Y. M., held at their Hall, in Hartford, Dec. 27, 1876. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Wm. H. Moore, W. M.; A. B. Baird, S. W.; S. Edwards, J. W.; Z. Wayne Griffin, Trs.; J. P. Tracy, Sec.; S. E. Hill, S. D.; J. D.; G. J. Bean, S. & T.

By-monial.

Cupid has been at work again in our midst. This time we have to chronicle the marriage of Mr. B. P. Berryman and Miss Annie Tracy. Both of the contracting parties are well known hereabouts. Mr. Berryman is the leading merchant tailor of this city, while Miss Tracy is one of the leaders in Hartford society, and is a rare flower plucked from the garden of queenly ladies. Their marriage was witnessed by a few invited guests New Year's eve, at the residence of the bride's father. Mr. Berryman and his amiable bride have retired to their "little cottage by the roadside," where happiness reigns supreme.

INVALUABLE FOR RAILROAD MEN.
"I suffered for more than a year with indigestion, and during the last six months I was very bilious, occasionally having a dumb chill, followed by fevers, which prostrated me. I took Simmons', your Liver Regulator, and for several months I have been as stout and hearty as any man could desire to be. I am thoroughly satisfied that it is all it is recommended to be for indigestion and bilious complaints, for mine was certainly a stubborn case. I have heard many of my friends speak of it, and all agree that it possesses all the virtues you claim for it." A. H. HIGHTOWER, Conductor M. and W. R. R.

Please Pay.

We have a great deal due us by the people of this country, in notes, accounts, taxes, attorney's fees, fee bills, subscriptions advertising, job work, &c., for the Herald. We need the money, we have just earned it; and want you to pay us. The old paper expressed our condition when he said:

"We are out of money and out of clothes, Out of bread and out of the food, Out of credit and in debt."

Our debt is out at the elbow, our pants are out in the rear, and we manage to be out when the collecting officer or one of our hungry creditors come around. We are tired of going around the back way to dinner, of hiding under the bed and have our wife tell we are not at home, of crawling into the big goods box in which we deposit old papers, and hearing the "devil" tell that we left home yesterday and will not be back for several days, and if to avoid meeting our creditors, and not to have a soul as big as a seed tick or a conscience no harder than adamant, you will sympathize with us and at least, pay us a part of what you owe. If you do not, Mr. Phillips, the new sheriff, will be sure to visit you soon and arouse you up a little. Let each one that is indebted to us, take this to himself, for we mean it for him, personally.

In Memoriam.

Ania Crow, son of Harber B. Taylor and Octavia Taylor, departed this life December 29th, 1876, after a brief illness of pneumonia; aged four years, one month and seventeen days. A few days ago little Ania was well, lively, and cheerful, scattering sunshine and happiness amid the family circle, by his innocent glee and childish prattle; but disease marked him for its victim, and soon brought him down into death's cold embrace, and today he sleeps quietly in Liberty cemetery. The wintry winds will sing a sad requiem over his little grave, and the early spring flowers will bloom about his resting place, as if to perpetuate his memory on earth, while his spirit is lacking in the Paradise of God. The bereaved parents will sigh for the "loved and the lost" as they view the "vacant chair" in the broken group, but will "murmur not as those who have no hope," but by an eye of faith they will view their little Ania as another treasure in Heaven, a "light in the window" to guide them, in their march through the darkness and gloom and perplexities of earth, to "mansions in the skies."

"Beyond the flight of time,
There surely is some blessed clime
Where life is not a breath."

REVEREND DAN. JAN. 1st, 1877.

Personal.

Miss Mary Rowe, of this place, returned home from Greenville, Kentucky, last Friday. The hearts of several young gentlemen are saddened by her departure from that place.

Dr. James Ashlock, of Long Grove, Hardin county, Kentucky, arrived in town Saturday evening, and spent Sunday with his numerous friends here.

Harry Bridges, Carson, Daniel & Co's, right bower, has been in town for a few days past. Our growers know Harry does to depend upon, and they all save their orders for him.

Mr. W. H. Griffin and lady, (nee Miss Inez Miller), returned from a visit to relatives in Elizabethtown, Kentucky, a few days ago. While there Henry purchased the necessary articles for housekeeping, and is now our nearest neighbor.

Mrs. L. J. Lyon, after an absence for several weeks, visiting Kinross at Cave City, Kentucky, returned Saturday, and is now the landlady of the Crow House.

Our young friend L. P. Foreman is holding the reins over a squad of young pupils in the Duke neighborhood, a few miles above town. Jack can put it in their grammar if anybody can.

Mr. John Doherty, of Rockport, Kentucky, one of the Herald's best friends, was with us one day last week.

Mr. W. H. Murrell, the enterprising druggist of Beaver Dam, was in town Sunday, "prospecting" around.

Rev. Bob. Bennett, of the No Creek neighborhood, was married in this place Thursday evening last, to Mrs. Johnson, of Pleasant Ridge.

Col. O. P. Johnson, the U. S. Collector of this district, spent a few days with his family here last week, but returned to Owensboro Sunday, where the office is now located.

Miss Fannie Thompson, a much admired and very popular young lady of Hartford county, who has been attending school here for several months past, returned to her home a few days ago. Miss Fannie leaves many warm friends here, who will regret to learn of her leaving us.

An Old Man 72 Years Old Assaulted by Two Sons with a Heavy Stick.

[Lincoln, Illinois, Times.]

Last night, while sitting quietly eating my supper in rather a defenceless condition, not anticipating an attack from any quarter, my two sons, who publish the Lincoln Times, entered the dining-room and made a bull-dozing attack upon me with a heavy black stick with gold on one end of it, and demanded its acceptance as a New Year's present. I did as requested without any resistance, which ended the difficulty. Thanks my boys.

Subscribers of 1876 Read This.

In the early part of 1876, we promised $50.00 in cash as premiums to subscribers of the Hartford Herald, as follows:

For the best half bushel bread corn in the city.....$10
For the best half bushel stock corn in the city.....10
For the best sample of ten pounds of shipping leaf tobacco.....10
For the best sample of ten pounds of cutting leaf tobacco.....10

The samples in each case must be of the crop of 1876, and produced by the person competing or on his premises. These premiums are offered to citizens of Kentucky who were boundless paid up yearly subscribers to the Hartford Herald, or became such on or before the first day of June, 1876.

On account of the long dry weather, the time has been delayed much longer than we had expected. We have set the time for Saturday 3d day of February, 1877. Three of the best judges of tobacco of our acquaintance, and two millers of great experience, have been selected as judges so that the premiums may be fairly awarded. In our next issue we will give full particulars of where the samples are to be left, etc. Let every subscriber compete, as it costs him nothing, and each has a chance of winning.

Thanks to Miss Alice Leach, of Cave City, for favors.

Hartford Post-office Subscribers.

We have been delivering a part of the mail to our subscribers at the office here, but it will be impossible for us to do so longer, as we have moved the post-office in the rear of the same building, and will make it too inconvenient. It will hereafter be delivered at the post-office.

Kind Words.

For the Herald.

Kind words fall upon the poor drooping heart like the gentle dew on the tender plant, refreshing its drooping tendrils and soothing its burning woes. Oh, who can tell the power of kind words. Long after they are uttered, they reverberate in the soul's inner chamber and sing low, sweet liquid strains that quell all the raging storms that may have previously existed. When the heart is sad and like a broken harp, the sweetest chords of pleasure are to vibrate, one little word of tenderness gushing in upon the soul, will sweep the long neglected chords and awaken the most pleasant strains. And, Oh! when borne down with the trials and troubles of life, we are ready to sink, fainting by the way; how like the cheering rays of sunshine do kind words come; they dispense the clouds, dispel the gloom and drive sorrow far away, at least for a time. They are vases of bright flowers in life's great desert or jewels in the heart, never to be forgotten, but will cheer by their memory and scatter sunbeams along the pathway of life.

Friday America's Lucky Day.

There is a popular superstition against Friday as an unlucky day, and yet it is a somewhat noteworthy fact that, for Americans at least, it has been peculiarly fortunate. Here are some facts that the Chicago Times has been compiling on the subject, and the perusal of them will sustain the assertion that Americans should be rather inclined to honor the day than otherwise.

It was on Friday, the 3rd of August, 1492, that Columbus sailed from the harbor of Palos for the New World. It was on Friday, the 12th of October, 1492, that he first saw land, after sixty-five days of navigation.

It was on Friday, the 4th day of January, 1493, that he started on his return to Spain to announce to their Catholic Majesties the glorious result of their expedition, and on Friday, the 15th of March, 1493, that he disembarked in Audalusia. It was on Friday, the 13th of June, 1494; that he discovered the American Continent. On Friday March 5, 1494, Henry VII., of England, gave to John Cabot his dispatch for the voyage which resulted in the discovery of the Continent of North America.

On Friday, September 6, 1565, Mendez founded St. Augustine, the oldest town in the United States. On Friday, November 10, 1620, the Mayflower first disembarked a few emigrants on American soil at Provincetown, and on Friday, December 25, 1620, finally landed at Plymouth Rock. It was on Friday, February 22, 1732, that George Washington was born.

It was on Friday, June 16, 1775, that the battle of Bunker Hill was fought, and on Friday, October 7, 1777, that the surrender of Saratoga took place, which event decided France to give her aid to the Americans. The treason of Arnold was discovered on Friday. Yorktown surrendered on Friday, and on Friday, June 7, 1776, Richard Henry Lee read the Declaration of Independence to the Continental Congress.

It is strange that young men would sooner stroll about over the country after half a dozen hounds than sit still and study books. Kill your hounds, boys, burn your greasy deer, break your half-pint bottles, take your pants out of your boots, comb your hair straight, be virtuous if you want to be happy. Go to work, do something, turn a clod; he who has given the world a potato has not lived in vain. There are few roses scattered here and there, but you must get from among the thorns if you wish to find them. Don't depend upon what your ancestors did in the past that is gone. The eternal past is gone, you are to man your own boat, run your own machine.

"The man who cheats the printer Out of a single cent Will never reach the heavenly land Where 'M Elijah went."

Antidote for Poison.

If a person swallows any poison whatever, or has fallen into convulsions from having over loaded the stomach, an instantaneous and very efficient remedy is a heaping teaspoonful of common salt, and as much ground mustard, stirred rapidly in a teacup of water, warm or cold, and swallowed instantly. It is scarcely down before it begins to come up, bringing with it the remaining contents of the stomach; and, less there be any remnant of the poison, however small, let the white of an egg and sweet oil or butter, or lard, several spoonfuls, be swallowed immediately after vomiting; because these common articles nullify a larger number of violent poisons than any medicine in the shops.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Since Georgia has thrown off the domination of the carpet-bagger and negroes, she has constantly and rapidly advanced in material prosperity, and her bonds are now worth 91 cents on the dollar. South Carolina, on the other hand, under carpet-bagger and negro rule, has steadily grown poorer, and her bonds are now quoted at 80 per cent. discount, notwithstanding the fact that the taxes levied are so high as to almost amount to confiscation. Is it to be wondered at, that the tax payers of South Carolina have grown restive under their burdens? Or that Georgia shall roll up a tremendous majority for Tilden for President.

Advertising People.

Says the Boston Post: "People who advertise are smarter than those who don't; better looking, too, nine times in ten. This is natural, if not logical. Advertising is an indication of intelligence, and intelligence is one of the leading elements of good looks. At all events the world believes in those who advertise, and it places its dollar in their pockets. Such are live people; and in these live days nobody wants anything to do with any but your live men and women. Our advice to every—except in matrimony—is to advertise. It is sure to return largely, increase your reputation as a business man, make hosts of friends, and add to the number of shrewd and sensible people in the world, of which there has never been an overstock."

Seven Deadly Sins and no Salvation.

1. Refusing to take a newspaper.
2. Taking newspaper and not paying for them.
3. Not advertising in the paper.
4. Smoking in and prying into the secrets of the sanctum.
5. Making the printing office a loafing place.
6. Reading manuscript in the compositor's hand.
7. Sending abusive letters to the editor.

For the first and second offences no absolution can be granted. The fourth is unpardonable. The balance, especially the seventh, dispensation can be obtained by special agreement.

Do you take The Sunny South?

If not, send for it immediately. It is the universal favorite, and all Southern writers are proud of it. Let a large club be raised without delay in this community. It is the only illustrated literary weekly in the South, and the press and people everywhere unite in pronouncing it the equal in every respect of any similar publication in America. The best literary talent of the whole country, North and South is writing for it, and it has something each week for all classes of readers. Its stories are superior in literary merit, and equal in thrilling interest, to those of any other paper, and its essays upon all subjects are from the best minds of the age.

In addition to thrilling new stories, a series of brilliant articles will soon begin on the CAMPAIGNS AND BATTLES OF THE ARMY OF TENNESSEE, by COLONEL B. W. FROBEL, a distinguished military engineer of that army in all its trying times. These papers will explain all the movements of Generals Johnston Hood and Sherman. Don't miss any of the numbers. They will read like a fascinating romance.

New and exciting stories are beginning every week or two.

State and local agents are being appointed everywhere, but let each community form a club at once and send for the paper. Having passed successfully through two of the hardest years we shall ever see, it now challenges the admiration and unlimited support of the people. The price is $3 a year, but clubs of four and upwards get it for $2.50. Address Jno H. SEALS, Atlanta, Ga.

We club it with the HARTFORD HERALD, and for $4.00 you can secure your home paper and our great Southern literary journal, both of which every body in this community should sustain.
